

RETURN TO WORK COORDINATOR TRAINING

2 Day Face to Face Training

Course Overview

CHG has a proud history of providing the highest quality of workplace health services to South Australian employers. We have approached our role as a RTWC training provider with the commitment that we will provide the highest quality training available to employers in this state using experienced trainers and the resources of our doctors and therapists. Our approach to innovative and effective return to work services is proven – that's why we were selected as the winner of the Service Provider Achievement Award in the inaugural WorkCover Recovery and Return to Work Awards in 2007. We are keen to support your RTWC in following a proven approach to achieving excellent rehabilitation and return to work outcomes with injured workers. Our aim is to help employers as they seek to learn, promote and manage a safe and healthy workplace.

Participants will leave this program with skills and understanding of:

- the workers compensation legislation relevant to rehabilitation and return to work of injured employees
- the roles of key stakeholders, including injured workers, doctors, claims managers and supervisors
- common injuries and medical terminology
- how to identify, negotiate and offer suitable duties to injured workers
- how to effectively communicate with doctors and other treating professionals
- how the take away resource folder and other material can assist in the role of RTW Coordinator.

CHG – Practical and Hands on Learning

Participants who undertake the RTWC with CHG will gain practical skills in identifying suitable duties, understanding injuries and pain which are the most common barriers to Return to Work.

Face to Face Learning Benefits with Industry Experienced Trainers:

- Problem solving real scenarios in small groups.
- Workshop with a treating doctor to gain inside knowledge of establishing a working relationship with this important stakeholder.
- Surround yourself with like-minded professionals in a training environment to share skills and knowledge.
